About once a month an individual comes into the city with an advertising scheme. It's usually a scheme that would be rejected with derision if presented by a local printer to a busines man, but is easily worked by a stranger. The latest is a scheme of an advertising blotter, by means of which an enterprising individual managed with little labor to secure fifty or sixty dollars from the business men. They are still waiting for a fullfilment of the contract. Phenix Republicar.
